ALLIED BREVET PLATOON

This war has proven itself to be far different than those fought in the past. Old alliances give way to new enemies both expected and unexpected. Regardless of the side, everyone has experienced loss, be it on the battlefield or at home. With losses mounting and seasoned veterans becoming all the more valuable to the war effort, ASOCOM looks to what little leadership that remains for direction.

They always said it wouldn't be easy...and boy were they right.

PLATOON ADVANTAGE: HEAD HONCHO OF THE OCTAGON

When the Octagon was attacked by Mythos forces, ASOCOM's worst fear was realized: a decapitation strike. Still reeling from the losses sustained at the Octagon as well as around the world, Bazooka Joe has stepped in to provide much needed leadership and a person to rally around.

Bazooka Joe gains the General skill. All Rally Special Actions performed by an officer in or supporting this platoon automatically succeed.

SUPPORT UNITS

Bazooka Joe's expanded powers turn the Allied Brevet Platoon into a complete command echelon for any army it is attached to. A charismatic and street smart leader, Bazooka Joe knows how to delegate when the rounds are flying down range. He often calls upon other Allied heroes to help support his tactical acumen, allowing their natural skills to better augment his own.
